Job roles you might need for your charity – hints

You're free to choose what job roles you'd like in your charity, but the following roles might be useful to have.

- Fundraiser – to raise the money you need to run the charity and pay your wages and other costs
- Accountant – to look after the money once you have it
- IT roles – for example IT support analyst (to keep your technology up and running) or web developer (to write the code behind your website)
- Marketing manager – to promote your charity
